Issue 200 11th November 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

As today is remembrance day, we held a minutes silence at 11am as a mark of respect to those who fought to keep our country safe but also to think of those in our armed forces today who still work all over the world, away from their friends and families and look after our country's best interests. On Remembrance Sunday this weekend, our prefects, myself and Miss Wagstaff will be joining the procession which starts at the British Legion and ends at the cenotaph outside St Michael and All Angel's Church. The prefects will lay a wreath on behalf of all pupils and staff at Cledford. I'm sure we will see many of you there on Sunday. This week we also held our first parents' evening of the year. It was great to see so many parents and hear how amazingly our pupils are doing. As always, if you have any concerns or would like further updates on your child's progress throughout the term, please contact us and we will be happy to talk to you.

Have a great weekend.

Mr Adlington
School Principal

EYFS News

We have all enjoyed the story of 'The Three Little Pigs' this week. There has been lots of finding out and discovery about different materials, tower construction, straw, sticks and bricks. In Forest School the children enjoyed collecting sticks and trying to build a house for the second little pig. Given the blustery conditions they did an amazing job!

The maths work has focused on '1 more, 1 less' and the children have been learning to write number 3 facing the correct way. We continue the '3' theme next week with the traditional tale of 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff'. Preparations will soon begin for the nativity play. Please continue to read five times each week even amongst all the crazy Christmas build up. This is so important to maintain the fantastic progress the children have already made.

Please can we ask you to check the name labels in your child's clothing? We are finding an increasing number of uniform items without names and suspect that it may be because labels or writing have washed away over the last few weeks.

Thank you for your support. See you at Forest School next week if you can make it (weather permitting!)
